2022 Sponsorship Opportunities: The Cultural Landscape Foundation
What's Out There: Frederick Law Olmsted Cultural Landscapes Guide

On April 26, 2022, which marks the 200th birthday of Frederick Law Olmsted, Sr., TCLF will release a comprehensive online guide to his public works and those of his successor firms (e.g. Olmsted, Olmsted & Eliot, etc.). The guide will include biographies, thematic essays, and a compendium of landscapes across North America. Olmsted's legacy continues to influence the field of landscape architecture today, yet many Olmsted landscapes are currently at-risk or underappreciated. TCLF aims to ensure this landscape heritage endures by identifying its value, raising its visibility, and engaging the general public along with designers, advocates, students, researchers, and others through free online content.

Commensurate with sponsorship level, you have the opportunity to include your logo or name on the program web page, in the online city guide, in e-blasts, recognition in the press release, and elsewhere.

About Us

The Cultural Landscape Foundation (TCLF) is a Washington, D.C.-based non-profit founded in 1998 to connect people to places. TCLF educates and engages the public to make our shared landscape heritage more visible, identify its value, and empower its stewards. Through its website, publishing, lectures, and other events, TCLF broadens support and understanding for cultural landscapes. TCLF is also home to the Cornelia Hahn Oberlander International Landscape Architecture Prize.
