2022 Sponsorship Opportunities: The Cultural Landscape Foundation What's Out There® Weekend

Hosted in different cities every year, What's Out There Weekends bring to light the unique landscape legacy and local character of each city as reflected by its publicly accessible parks, gardens, plazas, cemeteries, memorials, and neighborhoods. Engaging large and diverse audiences (typically 1,000+), this program offers two days of free, expert-led tours of more than two dozen sites that demonstrate the region's diverse landscape legacy, encouraging participants to discover the little-known design history of places they may pass every day.

For past tours in Denver, for example:

- 84% of respondents attended more than one tour;
- 43% of respondents had never been to the site they toured;
- 84% of respondents thought the tour was “excellent”—the other 16% listed the tours as “good”;
- 22% of respondents identified themselves as working in the design and preservation professions.

For past tours in Austin, for example:

- 81% of respondents attended more than one tour;
- 51% of respondents had never been to the site they toured, while 34% had visited the site more than once;
- 83% of respondents thought the tour was “excellent”;
- 31% of respondents identified themselves as working in the design and preservation professions.

Commensurate with sponsorship level, you have the opportunity to include your logo or your name on the event web page, in the printed guidebook, in the online city guide, in e-blasts, recognition in the press release, and elsewhere.

About Us

The Cultural Landscape Foundation (TCLF) is a Washington, D.C.-based non-profit founded in 1998 to connect people to places. TCLF educates and engages the public to make our shared landscape heritage more visible, identify its value, and empower its stewards. Through its website, publishing, lectures, and other events, TCLF broadens support and understanding for cultural landscapes. TCLF is also home to the Cornelia Hahn Oberlander International Landscape Architecture Prize.
