2023 Sponsorship Opportunities: The Cultural Landscape Foundation Race and Space: Expanding the What's Out There® Database

In 2023, TCLF will further expand its databases of sites, including the addition of important typologies (e.g. freedom colonies, burial grounds, campuses of Historically Black Colleges and Universities, etc.), and pioneering professionals and others associated with the sites. Working with local partners, sites will be identified, research conducted, and final text, photography, and documentary style video created and uploaded to TCLF's online database. This content will be folded into TCLF's free, searchable What's Out There database, which features more than 2,500 site descriptions, 1,000 profiles, and 12,000 images, all vetted by researchers and historians. Each entry includes a description of the site's design history, photographs, and an interactive map.

About Us

The Cultural Landscape Foundation (TCLF) is a Washington, D.C.-based non-profit founded in 1998 to connect people to places. TCLF educates and engages the public to make our shared landscape heritage more visible, identify its value, and empower its stewards. Through its website, publishing, lectures, and other events, TCLF broadens support and understanding for cultural landscapes. TCLF is also home to the Cornelia Hahn Oberlander International Landscape Architecture Prize.
